

LAHN Editorial Team and Website Management

Dr. Francisca Bogolasky is a Chilean Sociologist with a Masters in Public Administration from Columbia University, New York. She received her PhD in Public Policy from the LBJ School of Public Affairs, at the University of Texas at Austin in 2021. She is currently a postdoctoral researcher and adjunct professor at the Instituto de Estudios Urbanos, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile and COES (Centro de Estudios de Conflicto y Cohesión Social), where she is researching on residential mobility, renting, and evictions. She has been lead-manager of the LAHN website since 2018 and continues to serve in that capacity alongside her Co-editor role. E-mail = ffbogola@uc.cl

Dr. Kristine Stiphany is a Fulbright fellow and assistant professor in the School of Architecture and Planning at the University at Buffalo / State University of New York. Stiphany holds a PhD in Urban Planning and a Master of Architecture from the University of Texas at Austin, and a Bachelor of Fine Arts from the University of Michigan. A registered architect and former planner for 'slum upgrading' projects in São Paulo, her work is known for uniting large transdisciplinary teams for conducting research about the role of communities in documenting and monitoring how buildings adapt to climate and urbanization-borne threats in informal settlements (the focus of her National Science Foundation postdoctoral fellowship at the University of Texas at Austin). She is the founder of the Chapa Civic Data Lab, and she also directs its subsidiary C-Lab at the University at Buffalo. Prior to becoming co-editor of the LAHN, she has been heavily engaged on the website (See São Paulo Extension pages and the links to her CHAPA websites). E-mail = stiphany@buffalo.edu

Co Editor Dr. Peter M. Ward founded the LAHN website in 2009 along with colleagues Edith Jiménez (Guadalajara), Mercedes Di Virgilio (Buenos Aires), Marta Lazarte Salinas (Lima) and Bryan Roberts (Austin). He is Emeritus Chaired Professor at The University of Austin in Texas, (Departments of Sociology, and the LBJ School of Public Affairs). He received his PhD in Geography from the University of Liverpool (UK) in 1977 and has served as a Professor at University College London (1976-85); The University of Cambridge (1985-91), and at UT-Austin (1991-2021). Over 45 years of his professional career his work has focused upon informal settlements and self-help housing in Latin America and in the USA (especially in colonias along the US border and in other Informal Homestead Subdivisions in Texas and elsewhere). He is author of 17 books and over 130 journal articles and chapters. A multi-authored study arising from the eleven city LAHN project was prepared for the UN-Habitat Meeting in Quito, 2016 (see Publications Page for details). E-mail = peter.ward@austin.utexas.edu
